

- How did you find the bugs that you found?

We found the bugs by creating test plans and documenting our results.

- Are your tests more broad or specific?

We have a mix of specific and broad tests within our test plans. Probably more broad than specific.

- What are the pros and cons of specific test steps?

Pros: More likely to find bugs within your website/application.

Cons: More time consuming

- What are the pros and cons of broad test steps?

Pros: Requires less time and resources to find issues with larger functions

Cons: Will most likely not find as many bugs and cause more problems for the users.
